PLEAD SELF-DEFENCE IN MAKING REPLY TO THEIR CONDEMNATION

Japanese Foreign Office Charges China With Responsibility for War—Claims Nations Misunderstand Japan's True Intentions—Wants to Maintain Peace in East by Co-operation

TOKIO, Oct. 9 (P).—The Japanese Foreign Office charged China with the responsibility for the Sino-Japanese conflict today in a formal answer to condemnations of Japan by the United States and the League of Nations.

It stated:
"It is the Chinese Government which is violating the spirit of the anti-war pact and menacing the peace of the world."

THE STATEMENT

The text of the statement follows:
The League of Nations regards Japan's action in China as a violation of the Nine-Power Treaty and the anti-war pact. The United States State Department published a statement to the same effect.

"This was due to misunderstanding Japan's true intentions. The Japanese Government extremely regrets this misunderstanding.

"The present conflict was caused by Chinese troops' irregular attacks on Japanese troops which were stationed in North China according to treaty stipulations. Japanese were manoeuvring at Lukouchiao with a small number of troops, as Japanese garrisons were widely scattered during peace time."

The troops landed at Algeiras were transported across the straits from Ceuta, Spanish Moroccan insurgent stronghold, aboard four large steamships escorted by two torpedo boats flying the insurgent red and gold flag. Heavy guard rails were thrown around the piers to prevent the approach of any unauthorized persons. It was estimated, however, that fully 5,000 soldiers were landed.

OTTAWA, Oct. 8 (P).—Representatives of two national organizations today called for a Government embargo on shipments of war materials to Japan and urged Canadian boycott of Japanese goods, while the executive of another asked the Government to join in League of Nations' steps to end the Sino-Japanese conflict.

President P. M. Draper, of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, and M. J. Coldwell, national chairman of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, issued statements almost simultaneously, demanding Government action to end exports to Japan of materials useful in arms manufacture.

The executive of the League of Nations Society of Canada sent two resolutions to Prime Minister Mackenzie King, one urging co-operation with the League to end the Sino-Japanese War, the other asking similar steps to halt the Spanish civil conflict.

TWO RESOLUTIONS

Draper's statement was based on a resolution passed September 29 by the National Labor Council of Great Britain, condemning Japanese aggression in China and calling on the Canadian labor movement to condemn it, and on indications the American Federation of Labor, now meeting at Denver, is likely to follow its example.

Public Will Be Saved Great Inconvenience By Community Chest

Canvassing by Numerous Welfare Societies Will Be Condensed Into Single Annual Campaign By Proposed Plan, Says F. M. McGregor

"At the present time twenty-three different organizations in the city have to appeal to the city for funds to carry on their work. This means that the public is being constantly canvassed, not only to their inconvenience but sometimes to their actual annoyance. The community chest is being organized to meet this difficulty and to simplify fund collecting for all concerned," said Fred M. McGregor, joint chairman with R. H. B. Ker of the Community Chest Fund drive, which will be conducted during the ensuing weeks.

An executive meeting held yesterday morning, under Mr. McGregor's chairmanship, heard reports from the various divisions. Miss Sara Spencer, chairman of Division C, reported that she had arranged teas for all the workers in her division in order that they would be well posted before they went to call on the public.

At one of these teas, on Friday, October 29, a special speaker would be present to give a stimulating message and tell of the success of the community chest in Vancouver.

Dr. D. M. Duncan, chairman of publicity, reported that a general circular covering the community chest would be mailed to 7,000 prospective subscribers over the weekend. This circular showed that 24 per cent of the money subscribed was for family welfare, 14.3 per cent for general welfare, 14.9 per cent for caring for the sick, 8 per cent for child cases, 7.5 per cent for contingencies, 20.8 per cent for character building, 5.5 per cent for those handicapped, and campaign costs and administration for one year, 5 per cent.

ticipate in the musical affairs of the church, and has already led to plans for enlarging the choir. All who have had an opportunity to hear this instrument have been deeply impressed with its musical properties and intrigued by its amazing range of tone colors."

DEFENCE OF COAST URGED

Victoria Division of League Will Request Mayor to Call Public Meeting

Following spirited addresses by Bruce A. McKelvie and Capt. T. L. Thorpe-Douglas in the A.O.F. Hall last evening, members of the Victoria Division, No. 1, Defence of Canada League, passed a resolution urging Mayor Andrew McGavin to call a meeting to demand that the Dominion Government take adequate measures for the defence of the British Columbia coast. The resolution read:

"That the mayor of Victoria be requested to call a public meeting of all mayors and Reeves of adjoining municipalities, and representatives of public bodies, to demand that the Dominion Government take immediate measures to provide adequate defences for the British Columbia coast."

Mr. McKelvie declared Canada could not afford to continue unprotected in a world torn by greed, jealousy and terrorism. He suggested that Canada might not be protected by the Munroe Doctrine, which was the opinion of President Munroe, expressed in 1823, but never adopted by Congress.

CHINA AND CANADA

The speaker drew a parallel between China and Canada. The former nation desired only to live in peace, he maintained, and had never undertaken a war of aggression. It had done nothing to adequately defend itself and its great store of natural resources, since the integrity of the Republic was guaranteed by the great powers of the world. The guarantee had no prevented invasion, by a signatory of the Nine Power Pact.

Disarmament was described as a beautiful dream, but an ill-timed illusion. Continuing, Mr. McKelvie declared that the British Commonwealth was the last home of democracy, and pointed out that many Canadians wished to enjoy the benefits of the Empire, but avoid its responsibilities.

He contended it was "no fantastic dream" to imagine a war between the United States and Japan at some future date, when Alaska would undoubtedly be the battleground. Alaska's lifeline was the British Columbia coast, whose most strategic points—the Vancouver railroad; the inside passage between the Island and Mainland, and the railroad at Prince Rupert, are or could be dominated by Japanese interests. The proposed Alaska-United States road would, therefore, be a military road, and in the case of war its destruction would be an essential feature of the strategy of the invading force. "British Columbia, would, in other words," said the speaker, "become a second Belgium."

He urged serious consideration of the building of the road by the people of the province before assent was given.

Early consideration of a flag for Canada by the Dominion Government was also urged by the meeting. A number of new members were admitted, and according to the executive, the organization looks forward to a year of promising activity.

MEDITERRANEAN RESORTS BUSY

Rumors of War Fail to Halt Increasing Tourist Traffic, Says Visitor

"Despite war in Spain and rumors of war in the Mediterranean, the volume of traffic to Italy and Mediterranean resorts has increased 200 per cent in the last six months, and accommodation on Italian ships is at a premium," declared L. A. Collins, of the Amerop Travel Service, Inc., who is here on a good will tour, and registered at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

"The increase in traffic shows just how seriously the traveling public considers the menace of war," he commented.

The situation in the Far East will materially help European resorts next year, in his opinion.

Mr. Collins is in the West to contact Canadian Pacific Steamship officials and to co-operate with them in arranging tours to the Continent this coming season. His company also arranges tours of Canada and the United States by European parties.

In this connection there will be two major attractions in 1938—the International Exhibition at Glasgow and the Eucharistic Congress at Budapest.

The Amerop Travel Service, which maintains offices in Montreal, New York, London and leading Continental cities, last year arranged the itineraries of 3,000 persons to Europe in connection with railways and steamship lines.

Mr. Collins will remain here two days before returning east via Vancouver.

JAPANESE OFFENSIVE MEETS DIFFICULTIES

Were again ejected by a second Japanese assault, according to this account.

CORRECTION NECESSARY
Reliable sources said the Army General Staff claimed capture of Chengting on the basis of entry by vanguard contingents yesterday morning. These men were subsequently driven from the city by a desperate counter-attack. It was stated, and military forces were obliged to issue a "corrected" communiqué admitting the claim was premature.

Japanese troops were now understood to hold the northeast segment of the wall surrounding Chengting, and confidence was expressed here that occupation of the important railway junction would soon be complete.

The original report given to the Japanese reading public related unalloyed successes in North China. "The whole front is assuming activity," the dictated press account said. "Japanese troops operating in Shansi Province swooped southward along the valleys of the T'ungshinghan and Luliangshan ranges and occupied Yuanping, thirty miles south of Taichow, on Wednesday. They are now pushing a drive on Taiyuanfu, the capital of Shansi, fifty-five miles away."

"Japanese troops along the Tientsin-Peking railway who occupied occupied Pingyuan, in Shantung Province twenty-five miles southeast of Tchow, are now fast advancing toward the Yellow River, forty miles away."

"In co-ordination with Japanese forces in Shansi and Shantung Provinces, Japanese troops along the Peiping-Hankow railway, occupied Chengting, 165 miles below Peiping, and are now driving on Shichichung, the last Chinese defence base in Hopei Province, only nine miles away from where Chinese troops are reported retreating. Shichichung is an important railway junction from which the Chengtai railway, 150 miles long, runs to Taiyuanfu, capital of Shansi Province."

FINDS CHARGES NOT SUPPORTED

Magistrate Dismisses Count Against George H. Snow—Another Withdrawn

After hearing evidence and argument of counsel, Police Magistrate H. C. Hall, in city court yesterday morning, dismissed a charge against George H. Snow concerning payment alleged due British Columbia tomato growers through operations of The Hothouse Sales Agency, the selling firm for the Tomato and Cucumber Marketing Board.

The charge was dismissed after Magistrate Hall declared there was no ground for the claim set out by informants of discrepancies in accounting at the Victoria office of the agency. Mr. Snow was promptly cleared of any suggestion of irregularity.

CHARGE WITHDRAWN

A second charge was withdrawn following a statement by J. V. Clyne, counsel for the prosecution, that he was prepared to withdraw any suggestion of wrong-doing on the part of Mr. Snow. The specific charge alleged Mr. Snow consigned goods to himself in contravention of the Sales on Consignment Act.

Richard C. Field, chartered accountant, testified he had made an audit of the agency books and that every grower had received all money due and that he had found that every charge made by the agency was properly authorized by the Marketing Board.

J. B. Clearhuc, K.C., appeared with Mr. McPhee as counsel for Mr. Snow.

Last Warning to Pay Taxes Given By City Assessor

PAYMENT prior to November 1 of 1935 taxes will prevent property from being sold at the city's annual tax sale, George A. Okell, city assessor and collector, announced yesterday. Despite failure of many to meet their obligations under the fifteen-year consolidated arrears plan, Mr. Okell believed the forthcoming tax sale would be smaller than last year. Approximately 4 per cent of the gross assessed value of all property was absorbed by the city through the tax sale procedure. Of 328 parcels on the tax sale last year, the city bought in 292. Since that time a number of property owners redeemed their holdings. Under existing regulations, former owners can reclaim their holdings one year after the annual tax sale.

Popular Old Opera
Presented Locally
By Amateur Group"Chimes of Normandy" Given Enthusiastic
Reception at First of Two Night Performances
—Miser Played With Distinction

ITS music full of gaiety and French grace, its costumes and scenery of Mediaeval picturesqueness, its story sufficiently intriguing to hold the interest from first to last, and a surprisingly competent company presenting the whole, "The Chimes of Normandy," Planquette's famous comic opera that made its premiere just seventy years ago in Paris, had a most enthusiastic reception when produced by the Victoria Grand Opera Association at the Empire Theatre last evening to open their season. It will be repeated tonight.

Here is another demonstration of the singular musical and theatrical talent that Victoria possesses. Much has been said on previous occasions of the unique genius of Fraser Lister, and it is excusable, in view of the clamorous applause that last night greeted his magnificent acting of the part of the mad miser, Gaspard, to select him at the beginning for special praise. Of the many fine interpretations he has given on the local stage, none has surpassed this of the avaricious old wretch who resorts to a terrifying ruse which gives him lone possession of the Chateau, where he spends the nights fully armed, and finally going raving mad when he is discovered. This scene at the end of Act II, where he occupies the stage alone for fully ten minutes while he soliloquizes under the ghostly candlelight, as well as the brief scene in the final act when he briefly recovers his reason and recalls ancient happenings that solve the riddle of the plot, are among the best things that the local amateur stage has had to offer in drama.

MANY ENTRIES
FOR BIG SHOWVictoria Horticultural Society
Sponsoring Display of Flowers Today

This afternoon and evening in the A.O.F. Hall, Cormorant Street, the Victoria Horticultural Society will hold a flower show. Many entries have been received, and the hall will be crowded with the various colorful displays. Doors will be open at 1 p.m.

An exceptionally fine display of chrysanthemums has been entered by S. W. Raven, many of them being varieties he has only recently received from England, and have not been exhibited here before. The chrysanthemums and Michaelmas daisies are at their best just now, and the many classes in the show will be well filled, with competition very keen.

The domestic science section promises to hold considerable interest, the ladies having shown their interest by making a goodly number of entries.

POTATO DIVISION

Another interesting section will be the potato division, with a number of growers planning to excel last year's record in the quantity of tubers grown from one pound of seed.

E. R. Bewell will judge the above section and will also give demonstrations to interested growers with regard to the "dry matter content" of their potatoes. Exhibitors may bring in a twelve-pound sample of any good grade of table stock and Mr. Bewell will gladly give them the test.

H. Whitehead and W. Hamilton will be the judges in the main sections of the show, and Mrs. R. E. Nimmo, Saanich, will judge the domestic science classes. There will be an auction sale of the flowers at the conclusion of the show.

Says City
Is Nearest To Heaven

VANCOUVER, Oct. 8 (P).—Brigadier Sutherland Brown, former officer commanding the British Columbia military district, caused a ripple of laughter in assize court here today.

Testifying at the criminal libel trial of George W. Gibbings, Brigadier Brown was asked by defence counsel if he had ever lived in Vancouver.

"I never lived in Vancouver, thank God," the brigadier replied. "I like Victoria. It is the nearest place to Heaven on this earth and I don't want to live in Vancouver."

Thanksgiving
Rites Are to Be Held Monday

A Thanksgiving service will be held in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Monday morning, October 11. The Golden Text is: "The Lord is my strength and my shield; my heart trusted in him, and I am helped; therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth; and with my song will I praise him" (Psalms xxviii, 7).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "The Lord thy God in the midst of thee is might; He will save, He will rejoice over thee with joy; He will rest in His love, He will joy over thee with singing" (Zephaniah iii, 7).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need. It is not well to imagine that Jesus demonstrated the Divine power to heal only for a select number or for a limited period of time, since to all mankind and in every hour, Divine Love supplies all good."

NEW BUILDING
FOR B.C. FORCEPort Alberni to Get New Lock-Up, Courtroom and Police Barracks

Tenders will be opened by the Provincial Government at noon on Tuesday for a new Provincial Police building at Port Alberni, to include courtroom, jail, offices and living quarters for the Island detachment of the force there. The new building will be erected opposite to the city hall, and will take the place of existing accommodation.

Bids on the work were advertised for by the Department of Public Works recently, with deposit of $550 required against due performance of contract.

The new building will provide accommodation for seven Provincial Police officers in the district, under Sergeant G. J. Duncan, with control over the municipal limits of Alberni, Port Alberni, and a wide area to the north and west, extending to Great Central Lake and Combs. It will be of wooden frame construction throughout.

LIBERAL WOMEN
BEGIN SESSIONSC. H. O'Halloran, K.C., Addresses Meeting on Aims
Of Liberalism

Mrs. F. J. Mitchell, as the sole nominee for the office of president of the Liberal Women's Forum, will be elected by acclamation at the annual meeting of the organization to be held on Friday, November 12. She will succeed Mrs. J. S. Akina, who has held the office for the past three years, and who presided at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Forum, when nominations were received. Mrs. T. D. Pattullo and Mrs. H. P. Hodges were nominated for honorary president and honorary vice-president, respectively.

The speaker at yesterday's meeting was C. H. O'Halloran, K.C., who told the Forum about the aims and objects of Liberalism, which were, in brief, to give all men equal rights and equal opportunity, provided they had the ability and were willing to do the work, to hold any position in the land, regardless of birth or class. This was the policy of the Liberal party. The Conservatives, it was maintained, might be liberal in thought, just as some Liberals might be conservative in thought; but there was this difference in the general policy of the two parties that Liberalism did not believe in class favoritism.

FORUM IS THANKED

In the course of his talk, Mr. O'Halloran thanked the Liberal Women's Forum for the help they had given during the two last elections. They were also doing good between-election work. They could not do better than they had been doing, and they could rest assured of all help and encouragement from the Liberal organization.

The meeting considered and adopted amendments to the constitution, one regarding representatives to the central executive who, hereafter, will be the president, secretary, and two members elected from the floor; the other referring to nominations for any office. With the idea of stimulating interest in the meetings, a suggestion was adopted that "captains" and committees should take charge of the various meetings.

The ladies of the Esquimalt and Saanich Liberal organizations were

Fan Sits on Top
Of Flag Pole to See Second Game

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (P).—The world series struck a humorous note yesterday when Anthony Albano, thirty-two old father of six children was discovered ensconced in a boat-swin's seat on the flagpole in the Yankee Stadium.

First man to pass through the bleacher gates for the opening game yesterday, Albano clambered up the pole during the night.

He was established 100 feet in the air. One man suggested it was about the altitude achieved by Carl Hubbell in yesterday's sixth inning. Police had no ladder which would reach that high, but finally Albano reluctantly came down.

Albano waited six days and nights to be first in line for a bleacher seat yesterday. He had no money, he told police, so he rigged up a "boat-swin's seat" and took it into the Stadium with him. When the opening game was over he hid under the grandstand until 3 o'clock this morning with four doughnuts and two oranges for food. Then he climbed the pole.

TAXATION AS PUNISHMENT

Premier Aberhart proposes taxation aggregating $2,000,000 on the banks in the Province of Alberta. There are 221 branch banks in the Province. Mr. Vernon Knowles, representing them, says that in 1935, of those branch banks only forty-one made a profit, and seven out of the forty-one made not more than $300. One hundred and eighty were operated at a loss. The taxation proposed is a desire to inflict punishment, to discipline the banks, to, if necessary to the furthering of Social Credit doctrine, put them out of business. This is all a somewhat new conception of what taxation should be raised for, since in the past it has been a means of revenue to provide the necessary services for the state. It is not a form of punishment; in fact, its incidence is usually to spread it over the greatest possible number of people and in relation to their ability to pay.

Mr. Aberhart regards taxation as a weapon to enforce his economic creed, and he does not care if, in the process he employs, industry is injured and credit destroyed. The power to tax is not the power to destroy, or else government has been translated to mean action that is not in the interests of the people. Comment on the Aberhartian policies affecting the banks is in reality a work of supererogation, since the banks do not come under provincial control, and happily so, or where Social Credit doctrines maintain, security for the people's savings would vanish.

BORING THE PUBLIC

There is a likelihood that legislation will be introduced during the coming session at Ottawa to impose restrictions on political broadcasting. It is possible that the same system that is in vogue in Great Britain may be adopted, by which each party chooses a spokesman who delivers one address at the opening of the campaign and another at the close. It would be an excellent idea if the flood of talk, often a series of repetitions, could be quelled. Ontario had a surfeit in its late campaign, hour after hour of what The Ottawa Journal called "appeals, denunciations, reviews, promises and explanations."

The limited intellectual equipment of most candidates makes it certain that in a political campaign they will repeat themselves over and over again. It is not clear at all why radio audiences should have to suffer from constant reiteration. When such candidates' speeches are reported in the Press the effort is made always to pick-out something new. It is a very difficult task, but at least the newspapers seek to keep their readers from the monotony of reading the same thing again and again. If radio broadcasting is to build up a reputation for variety it should follow the same course; but it does not when it makes no attempt to separate the old from the new. The situation is one that calls for redress. National broadcasting will not gain in popularity when it allows a barrage of words to assail the public ear during election campaigns.

IN WAR-RIDDEN SPAIN

Mr. F. Yeats-Brown, author of "Bengal Lancer," has been conducting an inquiry into conditions in Spain on behalf of The Observer. He has discovered some facts relating to the civil war, and especially to the position of the Nationalists, that will prove of world-wide interest. General Franco has 700,000 men under arms, and of these 30,000, or 4 per cent of the total, are foreigners. The foreigners are enlisted in the Tercio, or Foreign Legion, commanded entirely by Spanish officers. On the side of the Government there is the International Brigade, wholly foreign, and commanded chiefly by French and Russian officers. The claim made on behalf of the Nationalists is that 75,000 fighting men have crossed the French frontier to aid the Government troops.

It appears that General Franco has up to the present only mobilized his man power up to the age of twenty-eight. Moreover, strategically, he is in a sound position. He has a good air force, whereas the Government's machines, while good, are, according to Mr. Yeats-Brown, in the hands exclusively of foreign pilots, "who are more inclined to live on their excellent pay than to die for a lost cause." Perhaps the biggest factor in favor of the Nationalists is that General Franco has a contented people behind him.

The people are perhaps contented because living conditions in Nationalist Spain are cheap. At Salamanca eggs are 22 cents a dozen, bread 4 cents a pound, a large chicken sells for 42 cents and three lettuce for a cent. In Trujillo potatoes are 3½ cents and tomatoes 3 cents a pound. The cost of a sucking pig is 30 cents. An excellent dinner with wine costs 60 cents. Salamanca has never known better times. There are night clubs in full operation, the city is packed with people, and General Franco's policy of "no hearth without a fire, no Spaniard without bread," is not an empty phrase. There is even a law that provides for the payment of prisoners-of-war and provision is made by payment for their wives and children.

There is one story told by Mr. Yeats-Brown which tends to disprove some of the news dispatches and gives a new viewpoint of methods employed by Government troops. He writes: "Until I went over the battlefields of Bilbao I had no idea of how cleverly and consistently the Reds used non-combatants as pawns behind which to manoeuvre. For instance, in a letter from the Spanish Embassy in London, which was given great prominence in a London newspaper, it was stated that 'the rebels are bombarding the road from Bilbao to Santander, killing thousands of women and children,' and the demand was made that 'England shall assist in the evacuation of children, the women and the old men' because 'Bilbao will never surrender.' We know now that at the time this letter was written 20,000 Anarchists were escaping along the Bilbao-Santander road, and that when Bilbao surrendered thousands of Basques welcomed Franco's troops with joy. Everyone on the spot agrees that the Communists have been treated with the greatest leniency; most of them are still at large. The Reds had time to prepare eighty miles of a complicated and expensive system of fortifications, and they had time to prepare the destruction of which has been woefully complete) of practically every bridge and culvert round Bilbao. But they had no time to remove women and children from the war zone. The inference is obvious and sinister."

A LONG-DISTANCE DICTATORSHIP

It was Major Douglas, the founder of Social Credit, who cabled to Premier Aberhart to "pass Press Act," and Alberta's Legislature obeyed the behest. Thus a part of the Douglas creed is the suppression of the liberty of the Press. That creed wants to usurp a power that for some hundreds of years has been inherent in civil rights in British countries. It wants the power to punish those who write and publish news and views of which the Aberhart Government disapproves. It wants to regulate and control the public Press. The censorship is not to be applied to the radio, to the pulpit, to the public forum; just to the Press, as an act of punishment because Social Credit has been criticized. Premier Aberhart, with his schismatics and sectaries, wants to make the Press an instrument of his own policies, by stratagems, by licensings, by shifts and defenses.

The Alberta Government, as now constituted, seems determined upon setting back the hands of progress. It is small wonder that the legislation affecting the Press should be regarded as outstepping the bounds of political freedom and be referred for consideration to the Governor-General-in-Council. The freedom of the Press resides in constitutional usage and is safeguarded by constitutional practice. It is safeguarded, as well, by public opinion. There is an illustration of the latter fact in the success of Mr. E. L. Gray, the Liberal Party leader in Alberta, in the by-election of Thursday at Edmonton, a contest in which Premier Aberhart urged voters to support candidates (including a Communist candidate) opposed to Mr. Gray.

A CO-OPERATIVE EFFORT

The great American evangelist, Mr. Dwight L. Moody, the centenary of whose birth is being celebrated this year, was a strong co-operating influence in bringing the churches together for joint evangelistic services. Mr. Moody was not a cleric, but a layman, as also was his assistant in the student world, Professor Henry Drummond, and although offered ordination he chose to remain a layman who could the more readily serve all the denominations. His founding of the Student Volunteer Movement and assistance in the Student Christian Movement grew out of this catholic attitude. In a similar spirit of co-operation the local churches have united in a Moody Centenary Week, beginning next Sunday, an effort calling for the support of those interested in the higher life of the community.

ALL YOURS, ALL MINE

The world, the universe, all yours, all mine; The lovely sky at morn, sunset and night; The earth, all nature that the eye can sight; For you, for me, then let the soul divine; The voice of bird, of wave, of brook, of pine; All ours, from meadow green to mountain white; The shade tree, wild fruits and blossoms bright; Creation beautiful, all yours, all mine.

At early eve, then, let us set aside The fret and fever of a weary day; Let joys of nature in the soul abide, Let all her charms your mind and body sway. For she is peaceful, joyous and benign; Creation beautiful, all yours, all mine.

—Elizabeth Mae Crosby, in Zion's Herald.

Have not too low thoughts of thyself. The confidence a man hath of his being pleasant in his demeanor is a means whereby he infallibly cometh to be such.—Burton.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

Meet John Patrick Gallagher, B.Sc., typical of young Canada at its best. A shy young man, made up of 175 lbs. of football muscles, a square-jawed frame, laughing blue eyes, and a battered hat that perches precariously over a pioneer's head to the near exclusion of a right eye with more than a glint of adventure and fun in it; that is Jack Gallagher, the wide-awake son of Winnipeg parents, who is now on his way to the University of California to take his M.Sc. degree.

A shy young man who can tell you about the north shore of Great Slave Lake, because he helped to map it on a scale of one inch to the mile, and there were a lot of miles; who can tell you about God's Lake, and the new Canadian North which is undiscovered today and the scene of one hundred airplane gold rushes tomorrow; but who has to be wheedled and blarneyed into talking about himself; that is Jack Gallagher, who passed through Victoria yesterday with his hat over his right eye, and the heart of him singing.

Last year, while still an undergraduate at the University of Manitoba, Jack was one of a Dominion geodetic survey party of eight under Dr. D. L. Downie, that flew North from Winnipeg, and went up river by canoe in four days (a distance re-traversed downstream later in four hours). The party traveled 1,000 miles in four months, and came out with notes to make a reconnaissance map of 4,500 square miles of virgin northland territory.

On the top end of their sheet they found gold at Mink Lake, which brought a rush of 100 airplane parties inside the next thirty days. On the south end of their sheet they saw miners taking out twenty-eight ounces of gold to the ton in workings less than a year old. Tractors were being flown in in small parts, assembled, and roads pushed back towards civilization; while store-keepers, mechanics and the myriad activities of communal life had begun a new settlement.

For the rest, the party mapped what it had been sent to map, fought off flies and mosquitoes, crawled over rocks, waded through muskeg, avoided black bears with clubs, shot rapids and spent 100 grueling days in the bush.

Jack returned to the University of Manitoba, and wrote "field experience" in geology into his record. He studied hard for the next six months, and graduated this Spring with his B.Sc. Immediately he engaged again with a Dominion geodetic party, this time under Dr. Fred Jolliffe. A party of eight left civilization in May bound for the north shore of Great Slave Lake at Yellow Knife Bay, for detailed reconnaissance there and for an extensive view of the country up the Yellow Knife River. Airplanes, motor boats, canoes and Shanks' ponies carried them on their way. They returned in September.

This time the country changed to rock with a little muskeg, contrasted with the God's Lake region, which was muskeg with a little rock; but gold, silver, copper, lead, zinc and the things that men fight over were contained in the rocks. Three large companies are in the Great Slave Lake region, the Consolidated Mining & Smelting, at Yellow Knife Bay, the Mining Corporation, at Gordon Lake, and the Anglo-Huronian, a little farther off. Transportation is proceeding up the river from Fort Smith; by rail from Edmonton to Waterways, by water to Fitzgerald, where occurs a sixteen-mile portage, to Yellow Knife Bay.

Roads are being pushed back, and tractors brought in to run on them. Sternwheelers travel from Waterways to Fort Smith, a growing divisional point, and beyond. (It was over part of this route that the Governor-General went up the Mackenzie this year to Atlatik, on the Arctic shore.)

Canadian Airways, Mackenzie Service, and company planes are "ing daily over a wide section of the Northlands in the Great Slave and Great Bear Lakes areas. If the geography is not right, the fault is not Jack's, for he has been there.

It isn't only gold, silver and base metals that men were finding in the Northlands, however. They are finding a job of work to be done, and men with sufficient knowledge and initiative to do it. They are finding a new form of pioneering, with quick thrusts against the cold and ice of barrier lands, and quick returns; natural resources in surprising abundance, though it is only the radium, the gold and a little of the silver ore that are being carried out yet. They are finding a new use for the Hudson Bay Railway, other than grain; beyond all they are learning that Canada may begin at the forty-ninth parallel but doesn't end at the sixtieth, nor yet the seventieth; it goes to the Arctic shore.

It is a brand new frontier, the North, one that is being developed principally by fur trade and mining, even as British Columbia was developed not quite one hundred years ago. It is a frontier for hardy souls, for co-operation and enterprise; and to such efforts will be yielded natural treasures beyond the imagination of man. It is a frontier for youth, for youth such as this young geologist who mixes college with hard knocks, and hard knocks with humor; who knows where he is going—and who will get there.

So here's to the John Patrick Gallaghers of Canada, every one of them. May they always get what they go after. They are looking in the right place!

History Repeats Itself

The history of the undeclared war in the Orient is very similar to that of the Great War. In the early days of 1914 there was the invasion of Belgium by Germany's millions, hampered by the Contemptibles. Following the strategic retreat, French, Belgian and British troops dug themselves in. Then the armies in the field settled down to a ding-dong struggle which lasted four years, and the Allies to begin with had little artillery. . . . Japan's military machine has struck at China. The invasion has been hampered by Chinese regulars. There has been a strategic retreat. The Chinese have dug themselves in. There is now in process a ding-dong struggle which Japanese observers say may last four years, and the Chinese to begin with have little artillery. . . . The Japanese are even complaining of their enemy using dum-dum bullets. I am told Germany complained to the Hague about the British using gas, without grounds, of course, a full month before the Germans used the stuff at first Ypres.—B.O.

No. 1 Country

Passengers from China are telling about an Indian of some substance who owned a shop in Hongkong. The Indian was rather revolutionary and had minor trouble with other Indians at times. He was definitely not for the British Empire, and said so. Then the trouble came along and the street in which he lived was visited by troops, shells and loot. He hastily acquired a small Union Jack and hung it outside his shop. The same night there was further shelling and a small missile struck a Japanese shop next door to him and did a lot of damage. His own place, however, was not scratched. A foreign policeman who knew the man passed by the following morning and the Indian rose from his chair in the shop entrance and saluted with great ceremony. Then he pointed to the flag and said solemnly: "This sure belongs No. 1 country, Sahib."—P.M.K.

mediates playing, so let's hope they get their share of support from Mr. and Mrs. John Phan. On Monday North Shore United will be here to open the Inter-City Soccer League. The visitors should win as the locals haven't played together for a long time, but the game should be worth watching no matter what the score is. . . . Ralph Guldahl, United States open golf champion, comes out with the statement that Harry Cooper is the best shotmaker the world has ever seen. There's a retired golfer named Bobby Jones, whose record in major tournaments is incomparable, Ralph, old boy. . . . When it comes to world series pitching the present-day hurriers have to take their hats off to the late Christy Mathewson. "Matty" tossed three shutout victories for the Giants back in 1905.—J.D.

Snail and Coffee

"Give me a snail and coffee," a visitor from across the border requested the waitress in a Broad Street lunch counter. The girl passed under her skillfully applied rouge at the thought of a person wishing to eat one of the slimy objects. Little did she know they were consumed as a real delicacy in European countries. Then the customer explained that a butterfly in Canada is known as a snail in the United States. . . . Civic employees are patiently awaiting Tuesday evening, when the salary revision committee plans to make some recommendation to the City Council. We guess they will receive five per cent, effective either December 1 or January 1. . . . At a political meeting on Wednesday evening, a speaker was quoted as remarking: "Those who speak disparagingly of politics either have something to gain or are ill informed." We laughed so heartily on reading the remark that the neighbor in the flat above justly banged the floor. . . . Bill, the Broad Street barber, says the test of good manners is being able to put up with bad ones. . . . A Brandon scribe remarks that capital and labor are brought nearer together by modern strikers—with in a stone's throw of each other.—G.B.

"PENGUINS" IN OAK BAY

Sir,—Your correspondent in Tuesday's paper suggests that a new phenomenon has appeared on our shores, and moreover, came from Antarctica to view the United States President.

Surely this bird might have saved himself the trouble and deputed the amiable Amy to be his proxy. All the same, writing about marvels in migration, a very different bird to a penguin, that powerful flyer and dainty wader, the golden plover, happened then to be visiting the shores of Oak Bay. He comes from the Arctic and winters in Patagonia.

But the diving bird we have heard of lately is the California murre, an easy victim of the floating oil from passing boats. He is forced to the shore for warmth and rest. Apparently tame, he is a picture of hunger and dejection.

If anything can be done, it should be done, to stop the spread of oil, and so to save our divers from hardship and destruction. J. O. CLAY, 894 Island Road, Victoria, B.C., October 5, 1937.

GARBAGE DISPOSAL

Sir,—Yesterday afternoon a friend and I were sitting on the Dallas Road beach, at the foot of Menzies Street. We were surprised at the very large number of seagulls (as we thought) some distance out from the shore. But as the tide came in we were disgusted when these "birds" proved to be cans of every description, large and small, hundreds of them, all hurrying back to Victoria. I should think every can used in the city during the last week returned to disfigure the beach.

What a sight for visitors! I don't think, and I hope it is true, that there is not another city on this Coast that allows its garbage to lie about on its beaches. Surely the Straits are sufficiently wide for everything to be dumped further out. I wish some of the civic members could have been on the beach yesterday to "admire" the "return of the cans."

(MRS.) C. I. HANNAN, 852 Courtney Street, Victoria, B.C., October 6, 1937.

THE AMENDE HONORABLE

Sir,—In a recent issue of your paper, you published a letter of mine, in which I apparently misjudged Mrs. A. King.

Please allow me to take this opportunity to apologize for any misstatements I may have made.

NEIL B. BUTLER, 1702 Duchess Street, Victoria, B.C., October 6, 1937.

THE WAR IN THE ORIENT

Sir,—Japan's campaign in China is not lawless aggression but national defence. Britain and America would take the same action in the same circumstances. And why should they be so loud in their denunciation of Japan for the horrors of war? That "war is hell" was simply proved in the Great War, when Japan stood by us, and it was well she did. Our hands, now raised in protest against her for civilian bloodshed, are red with the blood of civilians whom we slaughter on our roads and streets by tens of thousands annually, not to the respectable name of national preservation but in pursuit of business and pleasure.

Let us try to understand the basic cause of this war in China. We read

The Union Castle liner Athlone Castle, on her maiden voyage to South Africa, reported the discovery of a tremendous hole in the ocean bed off the Natal coast, and south of Port Shepstone. The echosounding device revealed the presence of this hole with a giant pinnacle of rock standing up in the centre. The hole was so deep that the recording needle ran off the paper. "The discovery made by the Athlone Castle confirms the investigations made by the Discovery in 1929 and 1931," said Sir Douglas Mawson, noted explorer, when told of the finding of the deep hole in the ocean bed off the Natal coast.

"I have not previously announced the discovery," he said. "But I am at present preparing a report for publication. We found the great fault lines of Africa extending under the ocean bed toward the coast of the Antarctic. It is possible that the Athlone Castle passed over the crater of an underground volcano on the fault line."

Norwegian Ship Will Go On Drydock Ways at Vancouver Today

VANCOUVER, Oct. 8.—Freed from the rocks of Thormanby Island where she had lain more than two weeks, the Norwegian motorship, Soly, tonight was towed at the Burrard Drydock Company's dock in North Vancouver preparatory to going on the ways tomorrow.

A large hole torn in her hull forced when she piled on the island in the Strait of Georgia while beating her way north through a storm September 29, was temporarily sealed by salvage officials. They built a bulkhead around the puncture.

With the aid of a high tide, four tugs pulled the 4,402-ton vessel from the shore today and the Pacific Salvage Company's tug Salvage King towed her here.

She will go on the ways tomorrow for repairs.

SEARCH FOR
FISH CRAFTPatrol Boats and Planes
Looking for Ragna, Missing Since Monday

VANCOUVER, Oct. 8.—Sea-planes and Government patrol boats were today searching the waters between Cecepeece on the west coast of Vancouver Island and Cumshewa Inlet, in the Queen Charlotte Islands, for the Vancouver fishing boat Ragna, which has been missing since Monday.

It was believed the craft met with difficulties during recent heavy fogs that have smothered Queen Charlotte Sound.

No fears are felt for the safety of the men on the craft, however, because it is believed they could have made shore in the ship's lifeboats.

Nelson Fisheries, Limited, owners of the vessel, dispatched Ms. Western Spirit on Thursday night to act as airplane tender during the search.

The Ragna, ninety-four feet long and sixteen feet wide, is under charter to the fish company. She is owned by Atlantic Pacific Navigation Company, of Vancouver.

Cookery to Be Taught
In Classes

During the next few months the Victoria City School Board is offering two courses in cookery which should have wide appeal. Held in the large well-equipped and well-lighted laboratory of the Central Junior High School, with efficient and capable instructors, they should prove to be evenings of pleasure as well as of profit.

The Monday class will be planned to appeal to those seeking new avenues of employment, and instruction will be based on the fundamentals of cookery and large-quantity serving. On Thursday the instruction will be more general, to meet the requirements of a wide variety of men and women. To the housewife the opportunity is offered to learn how to obtain the most nutritious meals for her family from the limited number of dollars at her disposal; to the bachelor man or woman the ability to plan and cook his or her own meals; and to all members of the class the knowledge of how to entertain in an attractive and inexpensive manner.

The accommodation is limited, so early application to either of the classes is advised.

HEPBURN'S WIN WAS EXPECTED

Liberal Victory Anticipated, Comments Visiting Toronto Newspaperman

"The C.I.O. will continue to organize in Ontario, but Premier Hepburn will not allow such tactics as are being carried on across the line," commented Percy Robinson, a senior member of the editorial staff of The Toronto Telegram, who with Mrs. Robinson, registered at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

The victory of the Liberal party was generally foretold, he said, and it was generally conceded that the Liberals would obtain no less than fifty-five supporters.

Speaking of the policy of The Telegram, Mr. Robinson pointed out that the paper was independent, and had not supported Hon. Earl Rowe, Conservative leader in the election, primarily due to the fact that "he had done nothing worthy of support."

FIRST TRIP WEST

This is Mr. Robinson's first trip to the West, and he came, he said, at the urging of his wife. He was greatly impressed with the Canadian Rockies, and mentioned the fine weather he had experienced here with approval.

He was previously with The Canadian Press, and later joined The Telegram, where he became telegraph editor. Ill-health precluded the continuation of this work, though he has since continued with the editorial department, where his knowledge of the political and historical background of Eastern Canada is found particularly valuable.

He writes the occasional editorial, he admitted. Other editorial writers on the staff included Reginald McEvoy, son of the late Bernard McEvoy, well-known western journalist.

While here, Mr. Robinson will visit his cousin, B. D. Robinson, Victoria businessman, whom he had not previously seen for twenty years.

CONFLICT ON RIVER USES

Fishery and Pulp Rights on B.C. Streams Require Some Clarification

Conflict between fishery and pulp and paper industries over the dual use of British Columbia coastal rivers, long a bone of contention in this province due to the fisheries objection to chemical waste, may come to a head shortly after a formal request from new Federal and Provincial rulings on the issue, it was learned yesterday in circles usually well informed.

Official comment was declined, pending the outcome of negotiations believed to have been commenced already with Federal fishery departments by Provincial officials.

USE OF RIVERS

The present regulations, it is argued, have the effect of barring putative pulp and paper developments, by prohibiting the discharge of chemical waste into waters upon which fish go to propagate. Points of conflict occur at several places in coastal waters, with some division of opinion as to what should now be done.

Lumber interests are striving for a clearer definition of the fishery objections to pulp operations, so that research may be put to work to find a means of eliminating the causes of complaint. If some satisfactory solution can be found for the problem, a number of pulp and paper developments may result in this province.

Conversations are still proceeding between Provincial and Federal authorities on the issue, it was unofficially understood.

TELLS HISTORY OF WEDGWOOD

Sixth Generation Descendant Describes Evolution Of Famous China

The history of Wedgwood china is the history also of the original Josiah Wedgwood, for the traditions which he set in the eighteenth century are upheld today and the present house of Wedgwood is still reproducing many of the old designs which the ambitious Josiah introduced, said Hensleigh C. Wedgwood, sixth generation descendant of the founder, in the course of a highly interesting and instructive address given to a large audience in the Weiler Building last night.

Mr. Wedgwood traced the story of the china from its beginnings in 1754 when Josiah Wedgwood, then a mere apprentice, began experiments which led from success to success, until he was commissioned by Queen Charlotte to make a breakfast set for Her Majesty, and by Catherine of Russia, who ordered a magnificent 952-piece service, on which were painted 1,244 views.

Handicapped by the fact that chemistry was then in its infancy, Josiah Wedgwood was forced to make all his own experiments, the speaker said, but he perfected one type of china after another, the formulae of many of which were in use even today. As his fame spread, so the business of his modest pottery increased, and he bought a 350-acre estate on which he established the factory known as Etruria, where Wedgwood china is made today.

The speaker told the story of the beautiful Wedgwood Jasper ware, which became so popular that many people even at present thought that it was the only Wedgwood production; of Josiah's masterpiece, the reproduction of the famous Portland Vase, and of the introduction some years after his death in 1795, by his eldest son, Josiah II, of bone china, silver and copper lustre ware and color ware.

Between that time and the present, Mr. Wedgwood asserted, there had been no changes of major importance. Only in the last few years had Wedgwoods put out anything startling, a new glaze called moonstone, which had a matte surface.

After the talk by the representative of the firm, an interesting motion picture was shown of the various stages in the manufacture of the china, much of which is still done by hand.

LINEMEN HURT
AS POLE FALLS

Two Injured and Bus Damaged in Accident Yesterday Morning

J. J. O'Brien, 417 Vancouver Street, and Arthur Perry, 34 Lewis Street, B.C. Telephone Company linemen, were injured when a pole on which they were working at the corner of Wilkinson Road and Wellington Avenue snapped at the base yesterday morning and fell, precipitating them to the ground.

In falling, the pole hit a bus, damaging its top and the engine head.

The men were rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital in a C. & C. ambulance and attended by Dr. Hermann Robertson.

O'Brien suffered injuries to his back and Perry abrasions from his shoulder to his legs on the left side of his body. Hospital authorities last evening reported the men were resting comfortably after a satisfactory day.

Japan tried to settle locally and the action of the Japanese troops was nothing more than a measure of self-defence. Japan has no other intention whatever.

"Aggravation of the conflict in Shanghai and North China was due to the attitude of the Chinese who, violating the Shanghai truce agreement signed in 1932, stationed 40,000 troops in the demilitarized zone and were planning to murder 30,000 Japanese residents, including women and children.

"At that time the Japanese forces were only 3,000 strong. Thus, China is responsible for the aggravation of the situation because she disregarded Japan's non-aggression policy and mobilized a huge number of troops against Japan.

"This forced Japan to take military action. Japan's military operations in China today have been entirely caused by China's provocative attitude. Japan's action is entirely in self-defence.

WHAT JAPAN WANTS
"What Japan wants in making the present action is to eradicate China's anti-Japanese policy and maintain peace in the Far East, co-operating with China.

"Japan has no territorial ambitions.

DR. SAGE HEADS HISTORY GROUP

New Westminster Man Is President of B.C. Historical Association Here

DR. WALTER N. SAGE

Dr. Walter N. Sage, Vancouver, was elected president of the British Columbia Historical Association at the annual meeting held here last night. Dr. J. S. Plaskett, O.B.E., former director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, Victoria, was named first vice-president; Kenneth Waltes, Vancouver, second vice-president; E. W. McMullen, Victoria, treasurer; and Mrs. M. R. Cree, Victoria, secretary.

The council of the association includes: Judge P. W. Howay, New Westminster; Rev. J. C. Goodfellow, Princeton; B. A. McKelvie, Victoria; J. M. Coody, Vancouver; and Major H. T. Nation, Victoria.

The secretary reported a total membership of 412, made up of 133 from Victoria, 192 from Vancouver and eighty-seven from all other points.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS
The presidential address was given by Dr. Kaye Lamb, provincial librarian and archivist. He gave an outline of "Early Days of the Lumbering Industry on Vancouver Island," particularly that period of rather troublesome activity from 1844 until the close of 1865.

Dr. Lamb began with the first known attempt to put Vancouver Island timber to commercial use—the sale of timber for ship spars for the British Admiralty. The first sawmill, he said, was operated at Parson's Bridge here by the Hudson's Bay Company late in 1848, the first shipment off the island being made to Fort Langley in the Spring of 1849, in which year the first exports were made to California.

The first big attempt to lumber in Alberni was described by Dr. Lamb as having occurred in 1861.

Before adjournment, Dr. T. A. Rickard gave a few remarks on Drake's historical relic, a "brass" plate, recently located and around which there is an element of doubt as to its genuineness.

EXPRESSES WARM WELCOME TO CALL
ter as will bring us all into greater harmony.

The Prime Minister made a ringing condemnation of serial bombardments in the Spanish civil war and the Sino-Japanese conflict, but declared barbarity, death of non-combatants, starvation and misery were inevitable in modern warfare.

The real crime against humanity, he declared, was the breaking of agreements solemnly entered into.

REVIEWS WHOLE FIELD
In his first speech from the public platform since he became Prime Minister, Mr. Chamberlain reviewed the whole field of politics, but foreign affairs was his dominant theme.

He spoke of the "clarion call" from the other side of the Atlantic Ocean which three days ago arrested the world. It was "as welcome as it was timely in utterance," he said of the United States President's Chicago speech against aggression.

Mr. Chamberlain then turned to the Mediterranean.

He sincerely rejoiced it had been possible to come to an agreement with the Italian Government over the Mediterranean anti-piracy patrol.

AWAITING REPLY
Great Britain, he said, still was awaiting the Italian reply to an invitation to three-power conversations with France and Great Britain with a view of making the policy of non-intervention in Spain really effective.

The Prime Minister earnestly trusted that, when the Italian reply came "it may prove to be of such a character as will bring us all into greater harmony. If we could make real progress in settlement of the Spanish problem the way would be opened for those conversations which formed the subject of recent correspondence between Signor Mussolini and myself."

GREAT GROWTH
The Prime Minister spoke of the great growth of British armaments, of the increasing industrial production and of what the Government had done and proposed to do to develop agriculture.

But he had words of warning over the vast cost of armaments. It would be merely hiding heads in the sand of imagine that when Great Britain committed herself to vast expenditure on armaments, she could

Arc Lights Here Are Replaced by Powerful Globes

ALDERMAN T. W. Hawkins, chairman of the City Council street lighting committee, announced yesterday that approximately three-quarters of the city's arc lights had been replaced by 300-watt electric light globes. He anticipated that the change-over would be completed by the end of the month. Tests conducted by the committee showed that the globes threw more light on the streets than the obsolete arc lighting system. Alderman Hawkins stated that many reports had been received from broadcast listeners commenting upon better reception since replacement of the arcs.

at the same time have just as much to spend for other things.

Safety could not be attained without sacrifice, he declared, and "I say to you I cannot see any prospect of our being able in the near future to introduce reforms which would add substantially to the present enormous annual expenditure of the country."

FAST PROGRESS
Discussing rearmament in detail, the Prime Minister said that while "progress is not yet as fast as I should like or as it soon will be," our programme is much faster than anything we have ever attempted before in peace time.

He expressed confidence the British army "will, when fully equipped, be thoroughly adapted to the task it has to fulfil."

He did not anticipate any difficulty in the territorial army reaching its required strength.

Naval tonnage at present building or sanctioned by Parliament exceeded 500,000 tons, he said, while the naval personnel was expanding at a record rate for peace time.

Concerning the air force, the Prime Minister said the volume of machines being supplied would "very soon be greatly augmented." During the past twelve months "shadow factories"—airplane plants—had sprung up at half a dozen different places. Powerful airplanes, unsurpassed in design and equipment, were steadily coming forward from manufacturers.

INDUSTRY EXPANDING
He cited figures to show that industrial production was expanding, that merchant ships were far busier than in 1931. Compared with the first six months of 1931, retained imports in 1937 were up to 40 per cent and exports up 32 per cent.

Answering opposition charges that the cost of living was rising, he asserted it was below that of 1929 while average weekly wages were "substantially higher" than in 1929.

"Turning to agriculture, he forecast legislation designed to increase consumption and improve the quality of milk.

The Prime Minister derided a pension scheme sponsored by labor, claiming the sponsors had not explained that it would mean an increase contribution from the insured workers.

MUSICAL ARTS SEASON TO BEGIN WEDNESDAY
In their efforts to make this year's programme as interesting as possible, the directors of the Victoria Musical Art Society have been particularly fortunate in securing Viola Westerlain to open their season by a recital next Wednesday evening.

Miss Westerlain has already established an excellent reputation with local audiences and now returns with an even more secure technique and more mature artistry.

Alice Spencer Weiss, an accomplished musician holding a master's degree, will accompany Miss Westerlain and contribute a group of solos to the programme.

After next Wednesday's concert, Miss Westerlain will leave for the east to make her New York debut in the Town Hall on November 9, and then return to play as soloist for the Portland Symphony. She has won many scholarships under different eminent violinists, and won high encomiums for her playing at the San Diego Bowl.

Publicizes Victoria—An interesting cartoon, publicizing this city, appeared in The Seattle Post-Intelligencer, October 1, in connection with President Roosevelt's visit. It showed "Miss Victoria" at the foot of Vancouver Island, waving "good-bye" to the President, seated aboard the U.S.S. Phelps.

"Thank you for the tea and visit, Good Neighbor," says the President, waving back to her. Across the Strait of Juan de Fuca is "Miss Olympic Peninsula" in hiking togs, waiting for the Chief Executive with an open car, and calling, "Oh, Mr. Roosevelt! You Hoo, Mr. Roosevelt!" A copy of the cartoon, which is entitled "Good Neighbors All," has just been received by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

HOME NURSING IS IMPORTANT
Aims and Objects of Victorian Order of Nurses Outlined by Superintendent

The following Empire Health Week article was contributed by Miss A. Cressor, superintendent of the local branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses:

The Victorian Order of Nurses is the oldest public health organization in Canada. Its fundamental principle is bedside nursing and health teaching in the home.

In 1910 a branch was organized in Victoria, with one nurse to meet the needs of the people. After twenty-seven years of growth, this same branch maintains six nurses, with public health training, individually carrying their knowledge and teachings into every home possible.

The V.O.N. endeavors to meet the need of the many patients whose cases do not demand the full-time services of a nurse, of those who have neither the means to pay for the full-time services of a nurse, nor the household accommodation to offer her, as well as those who for various reasons cannot, or need not, go into hospital.

The Victorian Order nurse gives bedside care to medical, surgical and maternity patients on a visit basis and under the direction of the family physician. She instructs the expectant mother and cares for her and her baby during the most important period after the baby's birth—the first six weeks. She conducts classes in home nursing, health hygiene and infant care. She assists at the well-baby clinic held weekly, under the supervision of the medical health officer.

"The promotion of health and the prevention of disease" is truly the slogan of the visiting nurse.

PREVENTION STRESSED
We are fast learning that prevention is better than cure and is a more intelligent and effective method of maintaining public health.

The visiting nurse has a splendid opportunity for promoting health. While she is ministering to the sick, she is in an excellent position to teach prevention of disease to those in the family and to indicate to the patient how she may, in future, better protect her own health and that of others. Furthermore, there are many conditions bordering upon ill health which in themselves may not be considered serious, but which may lead to serious consequences if not taken in time and given the best possible treatment. In her daily rounds the nurse may detect these early departures from normal and see that steps are taken to remedy them.

Benjamin Disraeli, the eminent statesman, has said "The strength of a nation depends on the health of its people." The visiting nurse is a part of that whole health machinery whose objective is to increase the health, happiness and strength of the nation.

Mrs. S. E. Sinclair Removed by Death In Hospital Here
The death occurred at the Royal Jubilee Hospital yesterday of Mrs. Sarah Ellen Sinclair, widow of John Alfred Sinclair, who passed away in Victoria on April 13, 1937.

Mrs. Sinclair was a native of Manchester, England, aged sixty-four years, and a resident of Victoria for fifty years, her late residence being 2530 Florence Street. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. A. Price, Victoria, and Mrs. T. H. Clegg, Vancouver; two sisters, Mrs. J. W. Wagg and Mrs. George Crowther, and two brothers, William and Alfred Emery; three grandsons and three granddaughters and one great-grandson.

The funeral has been arranged to take place from the Thomson Funeral Home on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., will conduct the service, after which the remains will be laid at rest in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

FLEEING CONVICT SLAIN

Jubilee Hospital Ball Draws Brilliant Throng

Nearly 600 Guests Attend Annual Affair at Empress Hotel Given Under Distinguished Patronage of Hon. E. W. Hamber and Mrs. Hamber

The annual hospital ball held last night at the Empress Hotel under the auspices of the Senior and Junior Women's Auxiliaries of the Jubilee Hospital was attended by a crowd of nearly 600 guests. The affair was the most successful event of its kind held by the auxiliaries, and dancing continued until 2 a.m.

As His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. E. W. Hamber arrived at the door of the ballroom, followed by their party and the other patrons and patronesses, the orchestra, under the direction of Mr. William F. Tickle, played the National Anthem. Other patrons and patronesses were Commander and Mrs. C. T. Beard, Brigadier and Mrs. D. J. MacDonald, Hon. T. D. Pattullo and Mrs. Pattullo, and Mayor and Mrs. Andrew McGavin.

The guests were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Winslow, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. W. Tallamy, Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Watson and Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Walker.

HOSPITAL MONOGRAM

At one end of the ballroom behind the orchestra dais, a huge silver Maltese cross with the letters "R.J.H." made the only note of decoration in the room, the effect being most striking.

The ballroom foyer was used for sitting-out, and bridge and mah jong were in progress in the writing-room, where Mrs. Lennox Irving, Mrs. J. D. Hunter and Miss Gladys Irving were conveners. There were sixteen tables in progress, the players joining the dancers during the supper hour in the main dining-room and in the Tudor Grill, where lovely autumn flowers were used in decoration of the tables.

PRETTY DEBUTANTE

There was one attractive debutante last evening, Miss Doreen Phethean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Phethean. For the occasion Miss Phethean wore a charming frock of white net made with a short ruffled net cape, caught in front with a cluster of sweet peas. A great many beautiful evening gowns were noticed last evening, and from every point of view the affair was an outstanding success.

The general conveners were Mrs. Winslow and Mrs. C. A. Watson; the tickets were in charge of Mrs. E. Sheppard and Mrs. R. A. Wootton, who were assisted at the door by Mrs. Phethean. Other members of both auxiliaries assisted in various ways both last night and in preliminary arrangements for the ball.

Makes Her Debut at Ball

Weddings

EVANS-MANTROP

The following wedding account from The Kingston Whig-Standard, of October 2, will be of interest to friends of the bride, who was born at Esquimalt and received her early education at the Lamson Street School:

"A very pretty wedding was solemnized at high noon today at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Manse, when Rev. Dr. J. W. Stephen united in marriage Elizabeth Jane, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Mantrop, to Mr. Owen Allen Evans, B.Sc., son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Evans, Sault Ste. Marie. The bride wore a becoming two-piece gown of navy blue crepe with satin trimming, blue hat and matching accessories and a corsage bouquet of Rapture roses. Miss Helen Moore, Cleveland, Ohio, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid and wore a pretty gown of wine color crepe, with hat and accessories to match and a corsage bouquet of 'Token' roses. Dr. Charles Pinch, Guelph, formerly of Sault Ste. Marie, attended the groom.

"Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was held at Sanger's Hotel, Battersea, for the immediate families and a few close friends. The bridal party was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Mantrop, mother of the bride, who wore an attractive gown of navy blue sheer with a corsage bouquet of red roses, and by Mrs. Owen Evans, of Sault Ste. Marie, mother of the groom, who wore a pretty gown of navy blue floral sheer and corsage bouquet of Betteltime roses. Later Mr. and Mrs. Evans left on a motor trip through the Southern States. Upon their return they will reside in Sault Ste. Marie, where the groom is in the mines department of the Algoma Central Railway.

"The out-of-town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Evans, Mrs. Clarence Evans, Mr. and Mrs.

Horace Rose, Sault Ste. Marie; Mr. and Mrs. B. Cousins and Mr. and Mrs. R. Browning, of Cardinal; Dr. C. Pinch, Guelph, and Mrs. W. Putman, Hamilton."

The bride's father was formerly steamship inspector at Victoria, now with headquarters at Kingston, Ont., and one time chairman of the Esquimalt Board of School Trustees.

Survey of World News Given by Mr. H. D. Dee

Members of the Current Events Group of the Y.W.C.A. listened to an address given yesterday afternoon by H. D. Dee, in which he gave a bird's-eye view of happenings throughout the world during the past year.

An immense amount of subject matter was covered in the talk, the speaker emphasizing the highlights of news and linking all together with his own thoughtful comments.

CANADIAN INTEREST

With British Columbia as a starting point for his remarks, Mr. Dee commented upon the possibility of the province taking over the Yukon Territory and the possible results of the Royal Commission which will start its hearings in Winnipeg next month.

Interest in the British Isles had been centred round the abdication of King Edward VIII, the Coronation of His Majesty King George VI, the resignation of Mr. Stanley Baldwin and the succession of Right Hon. Neville Chamberlain. Mr. Dee refrained from comment upon the abdication, and spoke of the deeper significance of the Coronation ceremonies and its effect upon the world in general. He referred to the Irish Free State, the British mandate of Palestine and the conflict between the Jews and Arabs, and also to the first election in India under the new Government of India Act.

RACE FOR ARMAMENTS

In Europe, he said, the focal point has been Spain, each of the great powers having its own particular interest in the situation there. England's chief interest lay in the fact that a large proportion of iron ore used in the British Isles has been imported from that country. Regarding security and armaments, Mr. Dee referred to the amount of money which had been set aside for armaments.

Across the Pacific an undeclared war was in progress, the result of antagonism aggravated by the Chinese boycott of Japanese goods and Japan's desire for expansion, markets and raw products, in other words "economic imperialism," stated Mr. Dee.

NEED FOR LEAGUE

Regarding methods of warfare as seen during the present trouble in the Orient, Mr. Dee said "It is not much to the credit of the civilized world that we have so perfected the means of murder." I find it difficult to teach children the efficacy of the League of Nations when one sees all round one a world gone mad with dictatorships and armaments. Never has there been a greater need for the League than at the present time, and the need for its reform is obvious." The speaker pointed out the changes which it is hoped will be brought about in the workings of the League towards the ultimate achievement of its universality. The League had functioned better than any previous attempts to further world peace, he declared, and it was significant that, in spite of its apparent failure in many respects, no suggestion had been made to abolish it.

TRIBUTE TO MASARYK

The speaker referred to the presidential election in the United States and to the "spectacle of labor marching forward by sitting down," and to the internal strife in the ranks of labor.

In conclusion, Mr. Dee paid a great tribute to the late President Thomas Masaryk, of Czechoslovakia, whose rise to fame and power "reads like a fairy tale."

Mrs. W. G. Wilson was in the

Tennis Club Ends Season With Dance

A jolly crowd of 200 persons attended the dance arranged last night at the Crystal Garden by the B.C. Electric Tennis Club as a climax to its season. The dance was a financial success and proved most enjoyable.

A buffet supper was served at 11 o'clock in the lower ballroom, where beautiful flowers were arranged on the table. Dancing was continued until 1 o'clock this morning, a popular four-piece orchestra providing the music.

Mrs. R. D. Travis, Miss M. Dods-worth, Miss G. Williams and Miss D. Hill composed the committee in charge of the dance, and assisting with the advertising were Mr. R. D. Travis and Mr. J. Thomson.

Urges Women to Consider Local Japanese People

The regular meeting of the Gordon Head Current Events Club was held in the Gordon Head Hall on Wednesday. Mrs. F. I. Innes, the new chairman, presided, the position being formerly held by Mrs. Peter McNaughton.

Mrs. Innes spoke briefly about the Prairie drought relief, thanking all those who donated so generously. A solo by Mrs. M. Dawson, accompanied by Mrs. E. G. Paddon, was enjoyed.

Mrs. Nellie McClung spoke to an interested audience on current events. In speaking of the war in China, she urged her listeners to consider the uncomfortable position of the local Japanese people, who knew, she stated, that their country is under the ban of public opinion. It was a time, she said, to show kindness and understanding and not blame those who are powerless to help what is being done by the military party. The people of Japan, at their last election, voted for the peace party, but were unable to prevent the aggression against China.

This was followed by a brief singing.

Mrs. McClung reviewed two new books by Vancouver Island authors, "Frozen Fires," a book of poems by Floris Clark McClaren, and "John,"

In the evening a banquet was given for the visiting executive and delegates in the K. of P. Hall. The supper tables were decorated with flowers in autumn colorings and candles with deep yellow candles. The cleverly-designed place cards were the work of members of Dogwood chapter.

At the banquet the Provincial chapter presented beautiful bouquets of flowers to the regents of the hostess chapters, Mrs. N. Suddaby, Cowichan; Miss Ella Creighton, Dogwood; Miss G. Kenneth, C. G. Palmer, and Miss V. Arbutus chapter (Chemainus). Corsages and sachets of Cowichan lavender were given to all visiting members.

GIVES ADDRESS

A short musical programme was enjoyed, solos by Miss Eleanor Hotson, accompanied by Mrs. R. E. Macbean, and pianoforte solos by Miss Muriel Evans Bridge, concluded the evening.

The seating capacity of the hall was taxed to capacity at the meeting held at the K. of P. Hall this morning. The address of welcome was given by Mrs. N. Suddaby, on behalf of local chapters. Mrs. Dallas Perry replied.

Mrs. Frank Stead was congratulated on being a recipient of a Coronation medal, which she said had received as a tribute to the work of the whole order.

BIBLE IN SCHOOLS

Miss Mary Bollett moved a resolution, which was carried unanimously, that a letter be sent to Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, Provincial Minister of Education, asking him to take under consideration some further steps regarding the teaching of the Bible in the schools. This resolution was drafted in response to a request from Chilliwack for action along those lines.

Mrs. G. A. Grant, of Vancouver, Provincial Echoes secretary, then gave an amusing and interesting talk on her impressions of a Coronation trip. The morning session ended with reports of the educational and war memorial work, read by Miss Mary Bollett.

After the luncheon interval, a wreath was placed on the Cenotaph. Returning to the hall, Mrs. Frank Stead read a full report of the national convention which was held in Quebec last May.

The members were taken to the Prince of Wales Fairbridge Farm School, where the library which was contributed by all British Columbia chapters, was officially presented. The delegates were shown over the buildings and farm, the first visit for many of them to that interesting institution.

Leadership Has Important Part In Y.W.C.A. Life

"There is great need for leaders in Y.W.C.A. club groups and in the church groups of Victoria. Not many things in life can give as great a satisfaction as that which comes from the personal giving of one's self in leadership of a group. It is not enough to dream that the world may be better, it is our privilege to help to make it so. If, through these years of enforced idleness and bewilderment, youth may be helped to keep physically fit and strong, mentally sane and steady, socially happy in real companionship, spiritually healthy, putting first things first, the future will then not only be safe but glorious," according to Y.W.C.A. leaders.

The Y.W.C.A. is making an attempt to meet this need for leaders, and to give an opportunity to some to realize the satisfaction of leadership, by giving an eight-weeks course on training for leadership. The course will give practical suggestions for running groups, as well as dealing with the theory and technique of leadership. There will be discussion and demonstration, under the direction of such well-known people as Mrs. W. J. Graham, Dr. H. R. Anderson, Mrs. A. Sullivan and Mrs. A. Peebles. The whole course will be under the personal direction of Miss Helen Kirkwood, the new general secretary of the Y.W.C.A.

Classes will be held at the Y.W.C.A. on Wednesdays from 8 to 10 p.m. Registration is open to anyone interested, and it is hoped that members of the course will supplement the lectures by actual assistance during the week, in some group of their own choice.

OUTLINE OF COURSE

The following is the outline of the course:

Oct. 13: "The Leader, the Group and the Girl," Miss H. Kirkwood; interest group, "The Use of Story-Telling," Mrs. W. J. Graham. Oct. 20: "Club Management," Miss H. Kirkwood; interest group, "Programme Building," Oct. 27: "Mental Health," Dr. H. R. Anderson; interest group, "Hobbycrafts," Miss M. Beveridge. ## Recalls Dinners Of Harvest Time

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 8.—A Vermont editor metaphorically licks his lips when thinking of good things to come. "Fall is chicken-pie time in Vermont. There is hardly a village that does not put these suppers on, usually for the benefit of some church or organization. With the variety of vegetables and relishes and a final course of thick mince, apple and pumpkin pies."

But what about the thrashing dinners in pioneer Canada? J. D. Steinhoff, South London, was interviewed by The Free Press, and he had lively memories of those good old days, while admitting that chicken-pie dinners served by women today are not to be despised at this season. Thrashing dinners were a rather popular form of entertainment in Delaware Township in the '60s and '70s, when the women of the farm homes vied with one another in preparing elaborate meals. "It was good fun for a young man to follow the thrashing machine from farm to farm. Some of the meals prepared by these expert housewives for the thrashers were like wedding feasts."

There were, however, the dark days when the machine pulled into a farm in which everything was topsy-turvy, inside and out. Yes, there were slovenly housekeepers and poor cooks then as now and their reputation spread. Excuses were "hatched up," and with the first screech of the noonday whistle, several hands struck off through the fields toward home. Mr. Steinhoff also remembered the night when the first locomotive whistle was heard on the tracks over at Komoka, and a young man, returning home on horseback from calling on his sweetheart, interpreted the screech as that of an evil spirit. Turning his steed around, he dashed back to the home of his future father-in-law where he stayed for the night.

"Archie," asked the teacher of the new pupil, "do you know your alphabet?" "Yes, miss," answered Archie. "Well, then," continued the teacher, "what letter comes after A?" "All of 'em," was the reply.

Transparent Woman Is on Display Here

An exhibit which is unique of its kind throughout the world, the Camp Transparent woman, is now on display in the Douglas Street window of David Spencer, Ltd. This exhibit, brought here in the course of a continental tour of Canada and the United States, is a perfectly proportioned woman's figure, constructed of a transparent material known as "Cellhorn."

The primary object of this amazing reproduction of the human frame is to stress the important part played by foundation garments for women and especially physiological supports. The Camp Transparent woman is more than an effort to teach the public details of anatomy. It is a unique and dramatic public health exhibit through which the intricate structure and perfectly functioning mechanism of the body may be seen.

It is the result of twenty years of research and work, combining the best laboratory tests and the most intricate efforts of wood carvers, electricians, artists, sculptors, medical authorities and scientists of the Hygienic Museum of Dresden. Prior to its initial public display in New York it was passed by a board of five leading medical experts from all parts of the country and the seal of their approval set upon the work.

Board Makes Presentation String Orchestra Will Give Concert

The board of directors of the Y.W.C.A. made a presentation yesterday afternoon to Mrs. W. E. Cushing, retiring general secretary, in appreciation of her co-operation with the board and of her invaluable work in connection with the Y.W.C.A. On behalf of the members, the president, Mrs. B. S. Heisterman, presented Mrs. Cushing with a handsome suitcase, a gift of handkerchiefs and a corsage bouquet.

Mrs. Cushing replied in a happy little speech, thanking the members and expressing her regret in leaving Victoria. Her successor, Miss Helen Kirkwood, was welcomed and introduced to the members attending the meeting. Mrs. J. D. Patterson was appointed to succeed Mrs. Roy Angus as representative of the Council of Social Agencies and Mrs. W. H. Whiteley was asked to represent the Y.W.C.A. at the local council meetings in place of Mrs. Patterson.

Mrs. W. B. George offered her home for a bridge tea on October 29 and the arrangements were left in the hands of the house committee, headed by Mrs. J. D. Hunter and Mrs. J. W. Lennox. Committee reports were read.

Perfect Relaxation Is Found in Sleep

Why does sleep rest the nerves? Because in sleep less nerve force is consumed in running the machinery of the body. From a high state of tensility the nerves become relaxed. The heart beats more slowly. The brain neither receives nor sends messages. Little digestion is taking place. The blood pressure falls, relaxation is complete, and you fall asleep. But if you cannot relax and cannot sleep your condition becomes serious. And nerve force is depleted at a tremendous rate. A nervous breakdown threatens. Unless you take means to prevent it. Most people find Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. The most effective means of restoring nervous energy. Naturally and certainly it enriches the blood and feeds the nerves back to health and vigor.

String Orchestra Will Give Concert

Colwood is to have an attractive musical event on Friday, October 15, when a concert will be given by the George Dyke String Orchestra, Mr. Dyke himself conducting. Two well-known vocalists, Mrs. James MacFarlane and Miss Muriel Pottinger, will sing two groups of songs; Helen Ockenden, pianist, will give a group of solos and act as accompanist, and the popular Haydn String Quartette (Chris. Miller, John Pimm, Gilbert Margison and Herbert Botten) will play a movement from Haydn's "Frog" quartette.

A special additional attraction will be the showing by Herbert Pennday of some of his natural-color movie-camera views of the Coronation, taken by him when he was in England. Refreshments will be served, and concluding the programme, after supper, will be a "mystery" event, which friends are assured, will be a most pleasing ceremony.

The evening's proceedings will be sponsored by the Prince Edward Branch, Canadian Legion, Colwood Hall committee.

Will Query Reality of Sin, Death

Are Sin, Disease and Death Real? will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday. The golden text is: "The law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death" (Romans viii, 2).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light" (Ephesians v, 8).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "All reality is in God and His creation, harmonious and eternal. That which He creates is good, and He makes all that is made. Therefore the only reality of sin, sickness, or death is the awful fact that unrealities seem real to human, erring belief, until God strips off their disguise."

The choir will also sing "O Clap Your Hands Together" (Turner), with Stanley Honeychurch taking the incidental solo, and Smart's anthem, "Praise the Lord, O My Soul." George H. E. Green will be heard in a cornet solo.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

TIT FOR TAT

Today's hand falls into the class that I have dubbed "soccer hands." By this I mean hands in which the contract has been kicked back and forth by the opposing teams until it actually appears as though each side were unalterably determined to give away one or more tricks.

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♥ J65
♦ K107
♣ A983

EAST
♠ K10954

SOUTH

The bidding:
South West North East
1 ♠ 1 ♠ 2 ♠ Pass
2 ♥ 2 ♥ 3 ♥ Pass
3 NT Pass Pass Pass

South thought that, since he had avoided no trump until the third round of bidding, North would understand that he had only one spade stopper and would not permit the contract to stand unless North had an auxiliary stopper in spades. It was pretty hard for North to read this message, however. South would have been better advised to try for a game in diamonds.

West opened the spade king and East automatically followed with the deuce. Declarer ducked. West, not unnaturally feeling that declarer was making a bath coup (i.e., that he had originally held A-J-3 and that he was now waiting for a spade continuation up to his tenace) shifted to the club jack. Declarer automatically covered with dummy's queen. East took the king and shot back the spade jack, and from that point on the defense couldn't go wrong. Declarer ducked again, but West overtook and cleared the spade suit, later getting in with the heart ace to run off the rest of his spades. Declarer did not even make the club ace, and went down three tricks.

The first mistake had been East's. His partner (vulnerable) had bid, not the fourth highest, but the king. The supposition was that West held the K-Q-10 at least five times, and probably six times. In either case East could well afford the play of the jack, to show the leader where it was. To play the deuce and offer complete discouragement to a spade continuation was supremely foolish.

The second mistake was, of course, declarer's. When he was handed the beautiful opportunity to retain spade control while he went about knocking out the heart ace, he should have taken no chances on that opportunity being withdrawn. When West led the club jack, declarer should have put up dummy's ace, with a great sigh of relief. Even though East might (and did) hold the K-10 of clubs, the defenders could take no more than two club tricks. These, with the spade trick already conceded and the heart ace that would have to be knocked out, would total only four tricks. In short, there was no menace in the club suit, but there was great danger that if the club finesse lost, the only spade stopper would be removed before hearts had been attacked.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Question—The bidding has been:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ ?
What should East bid with the following:
♠ Q76432 ♥ 6 ♦ A J A J 10 9
Answer—East should bid two spades.

CHAPTER LV

Polly supplied that information without hesitation. Brell had told her to call a doctor and he had taken Mrs. Fordell up to her room. They hadn't known then that Mrs. Fordell had been stabbed. After the doctor had come and gone, Polly said, she remained in the room with Mrs. Fordell. Then Angus Garbrook came in and they were standing near the bed, talking, when Garbrook was shot.

"Garbrook—shot!" Carter almost shouted.

"Through the window, from the upstairs porch," Polly said. "We couldn't see who it was, of course."

"Yes, but—" Carter began, and broke off to demand: "Where's Garbrook now?"

"He went to the doctor's," Polly replied. "I don't know which one."

Carter swung around as muffled shouts came up from the river. In a moment Polly was alone. Every man on the bridge was bending over the guard-rail, intently listening.

Polly knew what that shouting meant. They had found something in the river. A body. The body of the person who had killed Fordell and Marco and Mrs. Fordell—and Dyson.

An old fear that had become a dull ache was suddenly intensified into sharp pain again. It was impossible, utterly impossible. And yet—she raised her drawn face to the starlit sky and her lips moved in prayerful agony: "It can't be! It can't be!"

Someone came across the bridge and stood before her, looking down at her with a quality of intense sympathy in his grey eyes. Until he spoke, she was not aware that he was there.

"I'm sorry, Polly," Angus Garbrook said gently, "awfully sorry."

There was much shouting on the bridge and from the police boat. Chief Carter kept shouting down through cupped hands, "Who it is? Who—who—who?"

Bellowed words came back, but they were unintelligible. He signaled his men to go back to the police wharf, turned and saw Garbrook at his elbow. "Oh, hello, Garbrook. Just arrived?" he said pleasantly.

Angus nodded gravely. "Miss Markey was just giving me the dope—about Dyson."

"He's over there," Carter said. "Rotten business. Say—what's the arm hanging in the coat for? Hurt it?"

"I was shot. From the upstairs porch at Fordell's. Tried to rouse a doctor on the island, but no luck. Thought I'd better run over to one of the city hospitals."

Carter opened Garbrook's coat, saw the blood-stained shirt. "You shouldn't have been driving with that bum arm. One of my men will run you over to the hospital."

Angus shrugged. "I could make a good guess," he said. "By the way, you haven't seen Brell since—"

He paused as a car came roaring toward the bridge—paused of necessity as the squeal of pinched tires had diverted every eye.

The coroner stared down the incline. "Hope that isn't your man coming back to say the Cleaves girl gave him the slip, Carter."

Carter didn't answer at once, but as the machine neared the top level, he said, "That's not one of my cars. Looks familiar, though." And suddenly turned. "Your bus, isn't it Garbrook?"

What Today Means

"LIBRA"

If October 9 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:45 to 11:45 a.m., from 2:45 to 4:45 p.m., and from 8:45 to 10:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:45 to 9:45 a.m., from 6:45 to 8:45 p.m., and from 10:45 p.m. until midnight.

Refrain from "talking with your hands" this day, for it is likely to annoy those with whom you are conversing. Gestures can be very graceful or extremely awkward, and this day the majority of them are apt to be clumsy. It is advisable today to fulfill any promises made for failure to do so may have a very bad reaction. If you are sarcastic you will simply be inviting trouble. Failing to lend a hand when it is needed may be very discouraging to someone this day and cause a very inconveniencing delay. During some period of leisure, it might pay you to do a little meditating. A few minutes spent in introspection may reveal to you some mistakes you have made, and also a good way in which they can be corrected. Married and engaged couples, and lovers, must have a clear understanding regarding anything of importance; taking anything for granted might lead to some complication. If a woman and October 9 is your birthday, the time of your birth indicates existing conditions were most propitious for a favorable future. Your social prospects ought to be very bright. Leadership seems to be one of your indisputable rights. Indomitable courage should enable you to overcome all difficulties. All you need is to have sufficient faith to enable your many fine qualities to co-ordinate efficiently. Luck can never cast a shadow for any length of time on your happiness, for prosperity apparently will be one of the dominating factors in your life.

Among the activities in which you are most likely to succeed are: Teaching, painting, writing, acting, singing, selling or commercial work of an executive nature. Marriage ought to bring you an abundance of love. The child born on October 9 is usually the protégé of Lady Luck. During the bloom of youth, Fate is likely to be instrumental in building the foundation of great success. If a man and October 9 is your natal day, you must use patience to be successful. Ambition may make you very aggressive, restless and perhaps hasty. Through journalism, printing, publishing, some artistic line of endeavor, acting, inventing, preaching, lecturing or selling you may find your great ambition realized. Junkman: Any rags, papers, old iron? Man of the House (angrily): No; my wife's away. Junkman: Any bottles?

Pearson Twirls Yanks to Third Win Over Giants

Pitches Five-Hit Ball to Bring McCarthy's Club Through to 5-1 Decision as World Series Continues at Polo Grounds—Schumacher Driven To Cover—Hubbell to Try Again Today

BILL DICKEY

Associated Press Staff Writer.
POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP).—The World Champion Yankees crashed through gaping holes in the defense of the luckless Giants today, captured their third successive game 5-1, and now need only one more victory to complete the worst rout of New York's National League in World Series history. The Giants, for the third straight day, came apart in so many places there was no room left for argument and nothing but a frustrated ninth-inning rally to give their followers anything approaching excitement.

The Yankees, as usual, made the most of nearly every scoring opportunity. They had the benefit of four Giant errors and six bases on balls but banged Hal Schumacher, star righthander, for nine solid hits. They scored all their runs off Schumacher in the first five innings and then coasted easily to triumph behind the five-hit pitching of Monte Pearson.

Pearson, curve-ball specialist, repeated his 1936 conquest of the Giants but was the first Yankee pitcher unable to go the route. After yielding the home team's only run in the seventh, on Jim Rippel's single and Jack McCarthy's double off the left field wall, Pearson lost control completely in the ninth.

GIANTS FILL BASES
The Giants filled the bases with two out on Mel Ott's single and successive passes to McCarthy and Lou Chiozza. Pearson was taken from the box after pitching eight straight balls. Johnny Murphy, ace relief hurler and a righthander, quickly squelched the threat by retiring Harry Danning on a short fly that Joe DiMaggio caught in left-center.

The opportunity was open for a home run to tie the score in the closing frame but that's the closest the Giants have come to being within gunshot of their rivals in three straight games.

The smallest world series crowd since 1933, numbering 37,385 cash customers who contributed to gate receipts of $165,648, defied a sudden cold snap to see the game. In keeping with the football weather the Giants kicked the ball around and otherwise convinced one and all they are definitely licked and outclassed for the time being.

Manager Bill Terry will come back tomorrow with his veteran southpaw ace, Bill Hubbell, who was knocked out of the box in the opener at the Yankee Stadium. His pitching opponent will be Irving (Bump) Hadley, a righthander who gained one decision over the Giants last year.

Hadley's nomination by Manager Joe McCarthy was somewhat of a surprise. It was believed the Yankees would shoot their ace southpaw, Lefty Gomez, but the world champions evidently believe they have their neighbors so badly on the run it doesn't make much difference now who starts.

There has been no evidence thus far the Giants have either the offense or defense to cope with the Bronx Bombers in a series disappointingly one-sided from the outset.

If they make it four straight tomorrow the Yankees will score their fourth "grand slam." They whipped the Pirates in 1927, Cardinals in 1928 and Cubs in 1932 without the loss of a single game.

SCHUMACHER WILD
Schumacher's wildness contributed to his own undoing as the sinker-ball expert failed in a "brave effort to duplicate his sensational victory over the Yankees in the fifth game of the 1936 series. There were men on base in all six innings Schumacher pitched, before giving way to a pinch-hitter, but with better support he might have extricated himself from some of his difficulties.

to handle the rebound. It went for a three-bagger, scoring Gehrig, George Selkirk's single tallied Dickey, but again Schumacher braced himself and kept the roof from caving in.

With one down in the fourth, Red Rolfe stole a two-bagger on a base hit to right. It was an ordinary single, but Rolfe gambled on a dash to second and made it easily as Rippe threw wide. DiMaggio beat out and infield hit and Rolfe scored on Gehrig's fly to Moore.

COMEDY OF ERRORS
The climax to the comedy of errors came in the fifth. Selkirk first up, grounded to McCarthy, who not only fumbled the ball but then tossed wildly to Schumacher in a futile attempt to catch the runner. Selkirk sped to second and McCarthy was charged with a double error. Hoag dropped a single into center and when Chiozza fumbled the ball for an error, Selkirk scampered home after a hesitation start.

ANNUAL CLIMB TO BE STAGED NEXT MONDAY

Two Motorcycle Championships at Stake in Hill Competition

With a large entry in all three events, the Victoria Motorcycle Club's hill climb at Mount Douglas on Thanksgiving Day promises to produce plenty of action and thrills for the large holiday crowd. The hill is rough in spots, which means the riders will have a tough time speeding up the dangerous slope.

The novice event for riders, who have never placed in a previous climb, will open the show and great interest will centre around Newton Cameron's German B.M.W., a beautiful design of workmanship. A similar machine to Cameron's recently established a world's motorcycle record at over 170 miles per hour. Ken Henderson, Vic Stevens and Pop Shanks will pilot Harley-Davidsons, while Charlie Davies and Bill Leahy will ride Indian machines.

Competition for the club championship and possession of the handsome Paul Girardou Challenge Trophy, won first by Johnny Nor-ington in 1929, will be much sharper, as last year's winner, Bill Espley, is now in England. Bill Dillabough won the event in 1930 and Bob Shanks in 1931, '32 and '33, and Espley from 1934 to '36. Such riders as Frankie Thomas, Frank Baylis, Reg Shanks and Jimmy Workwick and the high men from the novice event will be gunning for the honors.

ISLAND HONORS

Final event on the programme is for the F. W. Francis Cup and the Vancouver Island championship. Local riders will pit their skill against outsiders in this event. Bob Shanks, who has ridden Mount Douglas since the competition opened seventeen years ago, will be defending his championship. Larry Lane, of Seattle, will pilot Louis Kaelin's Indian Scout and will be one of the favorites. Frankie Thomas, who won the Island crown in 1934, will be after it again.

The climb will start at 2:30 and a bus will leave the Vancouver Island Coach Lines Depot for Mount Douglas at that time. It will return after the races. In the evening the motorcycle club will stage a dance at the Crystal Garden.

Members of the Uplands Golf Club will travel to Saltspring Island tomorrow morning to engage in a return match with the home golfers. There is a room for three more local players to make the trip. Anyone wishing to play is asked to communicate with Secretary Caven. The following will make the journey: H. Brynjolfsson, Walter Gravelin, A. Woodcroft, Ted Slingsby, D. Fletcher, A. G. Craig, S. C. Terrie, C. B. O'Neill, C. A. Walton, S. Porter, Bert Irish, E. Jackson and J. A. Mackinnon.

Coast Lacrosse Squad Holds Slim Margin Throughout Great Game to Gain 11-9 Decision in First Of Mann Cup Final—Crowd of 5,000 Attends—Next Game on Monday

By IVAN CORBETT
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

QUEEN'S PARK ARENA, NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 8 (P).—The red-sweatered New Westminster Salmonbellies edged out the three-time champion Orillia Terriers, 11-9, here tonight, in the first game of the best-of-five series for the Mann Cup and the Canadian senior lacrosse championship.

The second game will be played at the Vancouver Forum, Monday night.

Salmonbellies opened the game at a fast pace during the first period and outshot Orillia, 10-4, but the Orillia team came back strong in the second period to mark up fifteen shots on goal to the fishermen's eleven. In the last two periods, shots were about even.

Hank Munro, former Terrier, led the Salmonbellies scorers with three goals, while Pete Meehan bagged a pair.

Jerry Connell, husky Orillia defence, and Harold Jordan, Terrier forward, bagged two each.

SENSATIONAL GOAL

Connell's second goal was the most sensational of the night, as he bruised his way through the entire Salmonbelly team halfway through the third period.

Salmonbellies scored three goals to Orillia's two in the first period. Each team counted four goals in the second with New Westminster holding a 7-6 edge at half-time.

In the third they bagged two apiece and, in the fourth, New Westminster outscored the Terriers, two to one.

A rugged game after the first period saw a total of twenty-five minutes in penalties handed out. Salmonbellies were penalized fifteen minutes and Orillia ten.

Bill Wilkes, Salmonbelly centre, who left the game with a twisted ankle halfway through the last period was taken to hospital for examination, but was expected to play in Monday night's game.

Duncan Poloists Tackle Victoria Centaurs Sunday

A friendly match will open the two-day polo tournament at the Foul Bay Road ground tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock when G. G. Bais's team from Duncan takes the field against the Victoria Centaurs.

Monday afternoon the Up-Island poloists have challenged Esquimalt club for the challenge cup and the match will get under way at the same time. Victoria will meet the winner later on in the season, it was announced.

Centaurs will be represented by the following players: Hazelwood, George Tyson, Van der Vliet, Edgewood, Dr. Sturdy, Bill Boorman and Dick Wilson. Both Duncan and Esquimalt will be fielding formidable squads and the public will, no doubt, be treated to some fine exhibitions.

Jesse Haines Released

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 8 (P).—Jesse Joseph Haines, grand old man of the Cardinals' hurling staff, was given his release by the club he served eighteen years, a record for continuous activity with one team.

The Cardinals office announcement also stated that Fred "Sheriff" Blake, signed in midseason, had been given his unconditional release.

Haines' release was not altogether unexpected, as he had said he planned to retire from active duty at the close of the season. The announcement stated he was given a release in order that he can negotiate for a managerial post.

TEAMS DRAFT MANY PLAYERS

Major League Clubs Prepare To Strengthen for Next Season

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (P).—Stale-mated for the second in a row by New York's pennant monopoly, eleven major league clubs have drafted sixteen minor league players in preparation for the pursuit of the Yankees and Giants in 1938.

The Giants and Yankees, with more important business at hand, didn't get a man at last night's draft meeting. The Boston Bees drafted three and the Phillies, Athletics and White Sox two each. The Detroit Tigers and Chicago Cubs took one apiece.

Some of the players are veterans, like Rupert Thompson, jaunty outfielder the Bees sent to San Diego with

MAINLAND XV WILL OPPOSE LOCAL SQUAD

Barbarians to Play Rugby Match Against College Thanksgiving Day

Headed by Tommy Roxborough, clever halfback of the North Shore All Blacks of a few years ago, Barbarians, leaders of the second division of the Vancouver English Rugby League, will be here Monday with a strong line-up to play an exhibition match at Macdonald Park against Victoria College, new entry in this year's local senior section. The kick-off is set for 3 o'clock and Mayor Andrew McGavin has been asked to officiate.

This will mark the unofficial opening of the English code in the city and therefore a large crowd is expected at the enclosure Thanksgiving Day. Not many days ago the West Vancouver fifteen played an exhibition against Rowing Club and dropped a close decision to the senior team, which is ample indication that they possess a well balanced squad. Coached by Roxborough, better known to Victorians as "Roxby," the team is young, fast and said to be expert dribblers and ball handlers.

Victoria College has a fast and heavy squad this year and is reported to be in fine condition after several hard workouts under the direction of Coach Dan Dowell and his assistant, Roddy McInnes. Line-ups follow:

Barbarians — Patterson; Miles, Richards, D'Easum and MacAulay; Montgomery and Roxborough; Chappell, Coppin, J. Robson, Ward, F. Robson, Black, Isaacs and Lofting.

Victoria College — Smith; White, Colvin, Lucas and Cox; Symons and Noel; Mackay, McLaughlin, Whitaker, Miller, Williams, Hudson, Brodigan, Macdonald and Dowell.

HUSKIES TACKLE OREGON GRIDDERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8 (P).—Southern California's Trojans will clash with Ohio State in a big inter-sectional dual at Los Angeles tomorrow, while games at Palo Alto, Berkeley and Seattle will shape the Pacific Coast Conference football race.

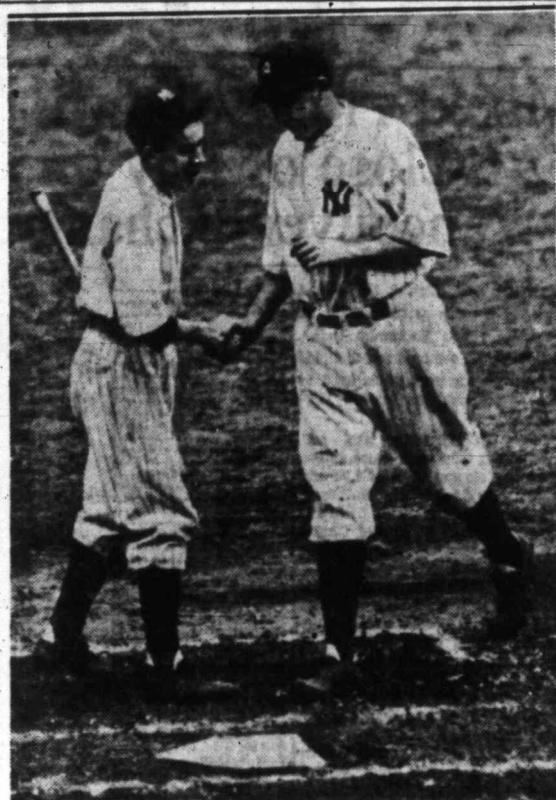

Ohio State's Buckeyes were heavy favorites over the Trojans, who tasted first defeat last Saturday in losing, 7-0, to Washington. Ohio State swept to recent victories over Texas Christian and Purdue.

The Bruins of University of California at Los Angeles, rested last week-end after their 26-13 trouncing of Oregon, will oppose Stanford's Indians, who have yet to win a game. U.C.L.A. was the popular favorite.

At Berkeley, California's powerful Bears, who decisively trounced St. Mary's and Oregon State, will face Washington State College, which played a scoreless tie with Gonzaga and then routed Idaho last week, 13-0.

Washington's Huskies, riding the high road toward their second Conference championship, were overwhelmingly favorites over twice-defeated Oregon State.

Smashes Lone Home Run

Tony Lazzeri, second baseman of the Yanks, is shown scoring the only home run of the opening game of the World Series at the Yankee Stadium in New York City. He is being congratulated by the bat boy as he crosses the plate. Lazzeri poked out the circuit wallop in the eighth inning.

Wright Shoots Great Round at Macaulay Links

RIPPING par to pieces and shattering the course record by two strokes, at the same time as he spread nine birdies over the eighteen holes, Eric Wright, young Esquimalt golfer, blazed his way to a sensational round of 62 yesterday afternoon at the Macaulay Golf Club, while playing in a fourball match with D. W. Mills, Herbie Thompson and Freddy Burns, club professional. Wright had five birds on the outgoing nine, shooting a great 30, and then fired four more under-par figures on the incoming route. He was back in 32, three under. This breaks the previous low score of 64 made by Norm Wallace in The Colonist Cup competition last year.

Wright's card follows:

Out—Par 43444443—35

Wright 432543432—30

In—Par 43444443—35—70

Wright 435434432—32—62

GRID TEAMS START TODAY

Footballers All Set for Important Matches on Eastern Grounds

TORONTO, Oct. 8 (P).—Throw out the results of a half-dozen exhibition games and disregard pre-season wins and losses. The East's footballers tomorrow begin playing for keeps, and from here on mistakes are costly.

A bit of sectional warfare occupies the Inter-Provincial Union opening stage with Hamilton and Montreal playing hosts to Toronto Argonauts and Ottawa Roughriders, respectively. The college group starts off with Queen's at Toronto and McGill at Western.

That is a tidy opening-day football menu. It will be topped off Monday when the giants of the Ontario Union—Sarnia Imperials and Balmy Beach—collide in the annual Thanksgiving Day game at Toronto. An Imperial victory is predicted by the majority.

As usual, the Big Four goes on with a cast of all-stars. On paper, the teams are matched so evenly that one fan's guess is as good as the next man's on the probable winners.

MAINLAND RUGBY FIFTEENS COMING

GAINS FINAL OF U.S. GOLF

Patty Berg and Mrs. Estelle Page to Meet Today for Championship

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 8 (P).—Two of America's familiar fairway campaigners, youthful Patty Berg, of Minneapolis, and Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, of Greensboro, N.C., entered the final of the 1937 women's national golf championship today.

The freckled faced Minnesotan triumphed in the semi-finals with all the ease and grace of a champion, while Mrs. Page displayed iron nerve in rallying to a spectacular victory. They will stage a thirty-six-hole battle tomorrow.

Mrs. Page blasted hopes of a South Carolina neighbor, Kathryn Hemphill, of Columbia, in a sensational comeback that brought victory, one up, on the nineteenth hole. The red-headed Berg, runner-up in 1935 to Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, of Philadelphia, moved into the championship picture for the second time by overwhelming Mrs. Gregg Lifer, former California champion from Pacific Palisades, 7 and 6.

The Greater Victoria Horshoe Pitching Association will conclude the season's schedule on Thanksgiving Day when two trophy finals will be run off, commencing at 10 o'clock. Finalists for the George Ledingham Trophy, symbol of the singles championship, have already been declared. H. A. Bates and A. Pinkerton will do the tossing for the silverware.

In the doubles the Rennie & Taylor Trophy several matches are scheduled. W. J. Rennie and W. A. Evans will oppose C. Groth and E. P. Kirchin, and the survivors of this match will play J. Keating and J. Bell. H. Kirchin and F. Brice will meet A. N. Murray and Pinkerton, and the winners will face R. Mackenzie and H. A. Bates in the other semi-final. Each game will be fifty points.

That cramped feeling you have at times in your downswing comes from being bent forward too much. Your body bend is too much toward the ball. This tightens your mid-section and makes it impossible for you to swing smoothly.

How do you get into such a position? Well, in most cases this faulty bend comes from allowing your head to lower in the backswing. This you can do very easily unless you take steps to avoid it. You may be very intent on keeping your head down during your swing or trying to keep it steady and right over the ball, and without realizing it you will let it lower as you swing the club back. Along with the lowering of your head will be the dropping of your left shoulder and leaving your weight on your left leg.

Having done any of these things in backswing, it is impossible to compensate for them in your downswing. Try as you will, you cannot overcome the tension built up by this forward bend. The best way to eliminate it and avoid lowering your head in the backswing is by keeping

BOUSSUS TRIMS
AUSTIN SOUNDLY

LONDON, Oct. 8 (P).—H. W. (Bunny) Austin, making his first competitive appearance in tennis since Great Britain's unsuccessful defence of the Davis Cup, was beaten, 6-1, 6-2, within half an hour today by Christian Bousus, of France.

The match was one of a group between international clubs of Great Britain and France. Austin was badly off form and nothing went right for him.

A teacher asked her class the difference between "result" and "consequence." A bright little co-ed replied: "Results are what you expect and consequences are what you get."

Early Rally Not Long Maintained On Wall Street

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—Stocks suffered another sinking spell in today's market, following an early morning rally, and a wide assortment of leaders fell one to more than three points to new lows for the past two years.

Brokers attributed the relapse partly to a sharp break in cotton futures on the Government's forecast of the largest crop since 1926 and the second greatest on record. This staple finished the day with losses of $1.40 to $1.90 a bale, being off more than $2.

In the mind of Wall Street the huge cotton acreage revived thoughts of the purpose of passing crop control measure and, incidentally, other New Deal legislation to which the financial sector is unfriendly.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 13 points at $25.5, a new bottom since October 30, 1935. Transfers amounted to 1,120,200 shares compared with 1,190,120 yesterday.

Early rallying tendencies in the bond market were smothered under late selling today and the list closed fractions to around 9 points lower.

Japanese issues were under heavy pressure. The 6 1/2's slipped 3 1/2 to 69 3/4, and the 5 1/2's off nearly 2 to 55 1/4. Great Consolidated Power of Japan 6 1/2's dropped 3 to 61.
